

Defeated generals given ax

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today fired the two commanding generals he blamed for the loss of Quang Tri Province. As he did, the North Vietnamese overran Fire Base Nancy, the last defense line in Quang Tri Province, 20 miles northwest of Hue.

UPI reporter Chad Huntley, reporting from northern headquarters at Da Nang, said South Vietnamese Marines and armored units retreated from Nancy to Phong Dien, five miles down Highway 1 to the south, the second defense position before Hue. The other is Evans, two miles further south.

The main threat to Hue was from the north, where the Communists have tanks and heat-seeking missiles which shot down a U.S. helicopter Tuesday. But sizeable forces were west of Hue and fighting was reported today at Fire Base Birmingham, less than six miles west of Hue, and at nearby King and Bastogne, 12 miles west of Hue. Bastogne was overrun earlier this week.

The government also suffered a major defeat today in Binh Dinh Province in the coastal highlands about 200 miles south of Hue and 325 miles northeast of Saigon. There the Communists overran Landing Zone English, the last of four bases in the northern third of the province.

The 2,500 defenders were taken off the beach in landing craft and taken to nearby Qui Nhon in a miniature Dunkirk. Loss of the base gives the North Vietnamese control of 200,000 persons in the province and poses a threat to the remainder of the province.

The generals fired today were Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of I Corps, which is made up of the northernmost five provinces, and Brig. Gen. Vu Van Giai, commander of the 3rd Infantry Division which was decimated in the fight for Quang Tri. Giai flew out of Quang Tri by helicopter after a series of temper tantrums when he lost control of the operation.

In other Indochina developments

Hanoi Radio reported new American air raids against North Vietnam today and said three U.S. aircraft were shot down. It also reported U.S. raids Tuesday against populated areas and said the Foreign Ministry had demanded an immediate and indefinite cessation of the attacks.

Phnom Penh dispatches said government troops had reopened Highway 7 leading northwestward from the Cambodian capital but that the situation along Highway 1 leading to Saigon remained serious. Communist troops there were only 40 miles from Saigon.

A South Vietnamese reporter who flew into embattled An Loc, a provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon, said Brig. Gen. Le Van Hung, the 5th Division commander there, said he would remain until there are no more North Vietnamese. But he predicted the North Vietnamese would bypass An Loc and drive toward Saigon.

S. Viet units go on rampage

HUE, South Vietnam (UPI) — Gangs of drunken, leaderless troops from South Vietnam's shattered 3rd Division roamed this ancient capital city today, looting and burning. Tens of thousands of refugees tried to flee as the city became a madhouse. The 3rd Division troops had straggled in from Quang Tri where they had been overrun by the North Vietnamese on Monday. Their commanding officer, Brig. Gen. Vu Van Giai, who fled the city by helicopter, was fired today and placed under detention.

The normal population of Hue is about 150,000 but it was more than doubled by refugees and army stragglers.

Soldiers Tuesday night set fire to the big Dong Ba market place and held firemen off at gunpoint. A cement plant built with American aid was burned to the ground, and police said drunken troops with no money or food were responsible.

Vans with loudspeakers moved through the streets of Hue ordering the soldiers to regroup and said that beginning Thursday they would be picked up as deserters.

Burley man, 34, dies in crash early today

BURLEY — Ernest Manuel Quintana, 34, Burley, was killed in a one-car accident early today.

Cassia County sheriff's officers were notified of the accident 1.7 miles south of Burley at 1:43 a.m. When officers arrived at the scene, they found a car in a field.

The car was traveling south when Mr. Quintana apparently applied the vehicle's brakes and lost control. The car skidded 184 feet, went into the borrow pit and rolled several times. It came to rest in the field on its wheels.

Rescue team set to enter Idaho shaft

Sunshine toll 29, 53 miners trapped

KELOGG, Idaho (UPI) — Rescue workers, hampered by deadly smoke and gas, worked desperately today to reach 53 miners trapped a mile underground by a fire in the nation's largest silver mine.

At least 29 others were known dead.

Mothers, wives and sweethearts, huddled together at the mine entrance awaiting word of loved ones trapped below.

Twenty-four bodies had been recovered by early today from the old Sunshine Silver mine and it was officially announced that five others were known dead.

Jasper Beare, a 55-year-old miner, who got out, said it "will be a miracle" if the men survive. But other miners said a trapped man could survive for weeks if he were near an air and water pipe.

Twenty teams of rescue workers fought thick black smoke and monoxide gas which poured through the 100 miles of tunnels in the mine and billowed out the air "intake" tubes.

The fire was believed to be around the 3,700 foot level, but its source had not yet been located.

One hundred and ninety miners were in the shaft Tuesday when smoke began curling through the tunnels shortly before noon. One hundred and eight of them scrambled to safety. Five bodies were brought out of the mine Tuesday night and 19 more early today.

The mine is the nation's largest active silver mine. It produced seven million ounces of the precious metal last year. Located in the silver country five miles southeast of Kellogg, the "Sunshine" shafts are 5,400 feet deep and going deeper.

A representative of Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus was on the scene and federal officials, including Secretary of Interior Rogers Morton, were scheduled to arrive for first-hand investigation of the disaster, the worst in the history of the silver mining country.

The miners who escaped had varying comments on its safety. One man who has worked there many years said it "is a safe mine—if I didn't think so I wouldn't work here."

Air and water were being piped to outlets throughout the mine, and each miner has a compressed air device. A veteran of the mine, who got out but whose son was still trapped below, said he "could live in there for weeks, as long as he keeps his head."

But Ronald Barnes, 33, another miner who made it to the top, said the trapped men probably could do no more than "pray." He said the maze of shafts were filled with fog-like smoke where they could easily get lost.

The fire was in shaft "Number 10." It broke out shortly before noon, possibly from electrical problems or spontaneous combustion. A miner said old timbers are scattered throughout the mine "and it doesn't take much to set off a fire." It would spread quickly because of the forced air being pumped into the mine, he said.

Among the women waiting outside the mine was Mrs. William Del Bridge.

"I stayed home last night waiting, but decided to come down today. I have a husband and son down there," she said. "I hope they're still alive."

Murtaugh returns trustees

MURTAUGH — Two incumbents were returned to office in the Murtaugh School District trustee election Tuesday with a record turn-out of voters.

Ralph Breeding, incumbent, polled 42 votes in Zone 1 to defeat Mrs. Carol Rogers who received only seven votes.

In zone 4, incumbent Robert Allred, who was running unopposed, received 18 votes, but two women candidates appeared in a write-in move which saw Peggy Kelley receive nine votes and Luana Egbert one.

"Voters of the district will go to the polls again on the coming Tuesday to vote on a six-mill levy for maintenance and operation of the district's plant facilities. Voting will be from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Murtaugh High School building and in the Robert Allred home for the Cassia County residents of the district.

Valley brother trapped

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Neil Andreason, Richfield, received word today her brother, Wayne Nelson, Osburn, is among the miners trapped in the Sunshine silver mine at Kellogg.

Mrs. Andreason, wife of Supt. of Schools Neil Andreason, said at latest report this morning hope continued for the men trapped by fire at the 4,700-foot level of the mine.

The fire is burning at the 3,700 foot level. Nelson was one of the miners working below that level when the fire broke out. Mrs. Andreason said American Red Cross officials are keeping in touch with families of the men.

Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Nelson, Mackay, left for Kellogg this morning to join Mrs. Wayne Nelson.

HHH retains slim edge in Midwest

By STEVE GERSTEL. United Press International. Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George S. McGovern were locked in a prolonged vote countdown today to determine the victor in Ohio's presidential primary with McGovern making a surprisingly strong bid for an upset victory.

In Tuesday's other major primary, Humphrey outpolled Gov. George C. Wallace in Indiana by a close margin, but the outcome of the Ohio contest remained undecided well into the morning.

McGovern claimed a psychological victory over his Minnesota rival even before the tabulation was complete. Humphrey said the closeness of the contest showed that the Democratic nomination contest was boiling down to a two-man race between himself and McGovern.

The Ohio results proved decisive enough for Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington who bowed out of the future primaries after a poor showing in the "Buckeye state." In most of the state, Humphrey led by two percentage points but McGovern began inching up as belated returns came in from the Cleveland area where a court order forced the polls to stay open until midnight because of a breakdown of the election machinery.

McGovern told UPI he was "delighted with Ohio results in that they indicate such strong support from rank and file working people."

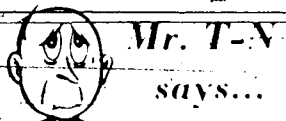

"What I see emerging," the South Dakotan said, "is a coalition of working people, overwhelming support among the young, the suburbanites and the farmers. And that's a combination I think that's going to carry us to the nomination."

Humphrey acknowledged the near stand-off, saying, "I think it's quite clear we are in a two-man race." The former vice president and unsuccessful 1968 presidential nominee predicted the rivalry between himself and McGovern may be ultimately settled in the California primary June 6, about five weeks before the convention opens in Miami Beach.

Early today with some counting suspended until tonight, Humphrey was leading 41.39 per cent in the statewide race for 38 at-large delegates to the national convention. Sixty per cent of the precincts had reported.

Although the Cleveland area, which holds 23 per cent of the state's Democratic vote, was believed to be a Humphrey stronghold, the returns showed surprising strength for McGovern, who launched an all-out campaign in the final week before the primary.

A wayward tennis ball socked Spiro Agnew Tuesday. Was it a love game at the time?

Gem aides to Kellogg

BOISE (UPI) — Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton and Gov. Cecil D. Andrus will fly to Kellogg today to oversee rescue operations at what Andrus called the "worst disaster in the history of mines in Idaho."

Before Andrus left he signed a proclamation declaring all Shoshone County as a local emergency area.

The move was necessary to clear the way for any emergency procedures necessary in the next few days.

Andrus said he and Bartlett Brown, Idaho Commissioner of Labor, would fly to the Coeur d'Alene mining district and the Sunshine Mine in a National Guard airplane. State Mines Inspector Carl Griner is already at the scene.

Andrus said Elbert F. Osborn, director of the Bureau of Mines, and Stanley Jarrett, assistant director for metal and non-metal mine health and safety, would fly to north Idaho from Washington, D. C.

A spokesman for President Nixon's National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control said today the group has asked the Bureau of Mines for a report on the Sunshine Mine disaster.

Clayton Willis, director of congressional relations and public affairs for the commission, said the president "is deeply distressed at the tragic loss of life because of a disaster at the Sunshine Silver Mine near Kellogg, Idaho."

He said the commission "would like to know the details and the circumstances of the reported electrical failure in the mine which may have caused the fire which allegedly swept through the mine."

Hoover successor touchy decision

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Finding a successor to J. Edgar Hoover is both a rare opportunity and a touchy election year decision for President Nixon.

But the administration may be closer to making its choice than is generally realized. It is believed to have had at least one or two men under consideration for more than a year to replace Hoover.

As eulogies continued to rise from all segments of American society, the body of the 77-year-old FBI director was to be taken to Capitol Hill at 11 a.m. EDT where it will lie in state in the Rotunda—the first civil servant accorded an honor usually reserved for presidents and generals.

The Rotunda was to remain open to the public through the night and until 9:30 a.m. EDT Thursday, when the body will be moved to National Presbyterian Church for an 11 a.m. service, followed by private burial at Congressional Cemetery.

Nixon planned to appoint an acting director for the FBI later today. But speculation mounted on who he would pick to permanently head one of the world's most respected and powerful crime fighting agencies.

The White House said officially there would be no comment on a possible successor. There was little doubt, however, that the private selection process was underway even as the public honors for Hoover continued.

The chance to name an FBI director is both a rare and an important task. In an election year, however, it was certain that the Democratic-controlled Senate would accord Nixon's choice closest scrutiny.

The President could, of course, delay a decision until after the November election, but that was considered unlikely since his failure to act would in itself become an election issue—as big or bigger than any issue created by whomever he might name to the post.

Hoover, who died in his sleep of a heart attack Tuesday, had suffered from high blood pressure. In recent months reporters working at the Justice Department noticed that once-robust face had become more sunken, although his gait and manner did not change.

The accolades from President Nixon on down were interspersed with a few comments which reflected in death the controversy which surrounded Hoover in life.

Mrs. Coretta Scott King, widow of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., said:

"We are left with a deplorable and dangerous circumstance. The files of the FBI gathered under Mr. Hoover's supervision are replete with lies and are reported to contain sordid material on some of the highest people in government, including presidents of the United States. Such explosive material has to be dealt with in a responsible way."

Analysis

King had been subject to an attack by Hoover, who at one point said the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, when he was attorney general, ordered King's telephone tapped.

The agency technically was left in the hands of Hoover's long-time associate and companion, Clyde A. Tolson, who is 71 and not in the best health. It appeared that Hoover's person-

Richfield gets board vacancy

RICHFIELD—Voting in the Richfield School trustee election Tuesday has resulted in a vacancy on the board.

Voters cast a tie of six votes for two candidates in zone 4 of the district and Supt. Neil Anderson said as a result the office will be declared vacant, and filled by appointment of the other board members.

In zone 3, voters re-elected Grant Flavel, incumbent and chairman of the board, with 26 votes over his challenger, Ronald Kalls, who received 12 votes.

Zone 4, where Glen Ross did not seek re-election, saw the two at choice might have been W. Mark Felt, 58, who was elevated to No. 3 man in September.

Other possibilities mentioned from time to time include:

—Myles J. Ambrose, 45, former U.S. customs commissioner who became a special assistant to the attorney general and consultant to the President in January.

—John E. Ingersoll, 42, a former Charlotte, N.C. police chief who heads the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

—Supreme Court Justice Byron R. "Whizzer" White, 54, a Democrat who has a generally conservative philosophy.

—Jerry V. Wilson, police chief of the District of Columbia.

—Philadelphia Mayor Frank Rizzo, a Democrat and former police chief who has publicly supported Nixon.

—Los Angeles County Sheriff

Peter J. Pitchess, head of the world's largest sheriff's department. He is 60 and recently underwent open heart surgery.

—William C. Sullivan, second in command at the FBI until he was forced out last year.

—Cartha DeLoach, who quit as an assistant director of the FBI when it became apparent that Hoover was not going to retire.

new candidates, Mrs. Hoyt Pugh and Bruce Sorenson, each receive six votes.

Anderson said today after conferring with officials of the Idaho Department of Education, the office will have to be declared vacant on completion of Ross' term in June. Board members will then meet to appoint a resident of the zone to serve the three-year term.

Board members will meet Monday at 8 p.m. to canvass the vote and to conduct a public hearing on the 1972-73 proposed school district budget.

Funeral Services for Alfred Perez Jr. will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Rupert Pentecostal Church. Final rites will be in the Rupert Cemetery.

Women in Zone 3 stir lively race

TWIN FALLS — A lively race has developed for Zone 3 Twin Falls school trustee.

In that zone two women are campaigning for the post, using intense door-to-door and advertising efforts.

Incumbent Mrs. Ruth Day is being challenged by Mrs. Frankie Lou Hale.

"When I ran a year ago, everything was more calm. This year, it all seems so intense," Mrs. Day said Monday.

Still, she says, she is puzzled by issues that have not come up.

Where are all those kindergarten advocates that have been confronting the school board and accusing us of not being in favor of kindergarten?" asks Mrs. Day.

"Under the options available to the district at the present time, we simply could not afford to start kindergarten now. Kindergarten teachers do not come free as a lot of people thought when the proposal was before the board last year.

"We would have to match some funds, but from where?"

We would have to cut back on some existing programs," Mrs. Day said.

Mrs. Day said School District 411 is operating "in the black" and she is "proud of that fact."

Mrs. Hale, who has taught in the lower elementary grades, said it is possible through creative ideas to have quality education by spending the same amount of money in different ways.

"I think that within this community there are already resources in facilities and manpower that could be used. The people of Twin Falls should know they have a series of alternatives other than the bond issue for reducing classroom load," said Mrs. Hale.

"In addition to split or overlapping sessions, or year-round school, perhaps other local facilities could cooperate in offering classroom space. Perhaps parents would rather have a class at the Presbyterian Church than to have to pay taxes for another school," said Mrs. Hale.

On one issue, Mrs. Day agrees with Mrs. Hale.

"The reduction of the classroom load at the elementary level is imperative. The new budget will have to be examined and then board efforts should be channeled to that end. Incidentally, the new budget is the least we can do with," Mrs. Day said.

Mrs. Day said, "I am satisfied with the administration of the district. The board and administrators are knowledgeable, competent men and women."

"In my year on the board, I feel we have good schools and we have made improvements within the financial limitations. That's the key, within our financial limits. We are trying to make the improvements the public feels are necessary with the money they give us. I think we are doing a good job," said Mrs. Day.

The former elementary school teacher said she would not like to see the district use split school sessions where children go to school at different times of the day.

"I don't think the families will allow it and I don't think our teachers would work from 8 in the morning to 6 at night for the same salaries they are getting now," Mrs. Day said.

"I don't see how using local churches could aid the education situation of the district," said Mrs. Day. "how many churches have facilities to handle an eighth grade or a fourth grade?"

Brandt seeking treaty support

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Willy Brandt met today with his political opponents to try to win support for ratification of nonaggression treaties with Poland and the Soviet Union before President Nixon's visit to Moscow on May 22.

Government sources said Brandt hopes to be able to give assurances that this deadline will be met when he confers Monday in Bonn with Secretary of State William P. Rogers. Rogers left Washington Tuesday for a European tour before meeting Nixon in Moscow.

Brandt met this morning with Rainer Barzel, leader of the opposition Christian Democratic Party, to consider a draft resolution Brandt hopes parliament will approve at the same time it ratifies the treaties. The resolution would restate Germany's foreign policy aims, including the people's right to self-determination, and the hope for more freedom of movement between East and West Germany.

Pending announcement of a government-opposition agreement, parliamentary business was at a standstill. Consideration of the 1972 budget, already long overdue, was interrupted last week when the opposition blocked approval of the appropriation for the chancellor's own office.

Ratification debate on the Moscow and Warsaw treaties originally was scheduled to begin today and conclude Thursday with a vote. But parliamentary deputies instead found themselves with unusual amounts of time on their hands while their leaders sought ways out of the crisis.

The crisis began when Barzel attempted to oust Brandt as chancellor last week, but wound up two votes short. However, Barzel countered by forming a test vote on Brandt's own office budget, proving that because of defections from government ranks, the chancellor at least temporarily also lacked a parliamentary majority.

Brandt fears that rejection of the treaties or even their delay for more than a few days not only would sour Germany's relations with Moscow but might also cast a shadow over Nixon's forthcoming talks in the Soviet capital, government sources said.

Home burns at Heyburn

HEYBURN — An old Heyburn house was burned by city officials Tuesday.

The seven-room house at the end of S Street toward the river was owned by the city of Heyburn.

The lot was scheduled to be cleaned and workmen started cleaning up by burning the house.

Workmen plan to use a tractor loader and pickup truck to haul away junk in the yard.

Burley BPW elects at Monday meeting

BURLEY — New officers were elected Monday during a meeting of Burley Business and Professional Women's Club at home of Mrs. Charlotte Anderson.

Elected were Mrs. Kenneth Grimsman, president; Mrs. Nellie Bedke, vice president; Mrs. Alton Buckley, secretary; and Mrs. Audrey Vanek, treasurer.

It was announced that invitations have been received to attend the Southeastern BPW District meeting Saturday at Montpelier and the Yellowstone BPW District meeting Sunday at Idaho Falls.

Reports were made on the south-central BPW District meeting held recently at Bliss hosted by the Gooding BPW Club.

It was announced the state BPW convention will be June 8-11 at Coeur d'Alene at the North Shore Convention Center. Plans are under way to charter a bus to go to the state convention which will leave Boise.

It was announced the next meeting will be Monday with place to be announced. Officers will be installed.

Productivity

The Labor Department's latest figures on productivity and labor costs per unit of output — for the first quarter of 1972 — show a slippage from last year's performance.

This development did not come as a surprise to some economists. But it should be a warning that the economy is not yet forcing itself to compete vigorously with foreign manufacturing.

A year ago, American industry was moving up on its foreign competitors. For the first half of 1971, the performance was particularly promising. The unit labor cost in the U. S. for that period rose 2.9 percent, but the increase for foreign industry was twice as much — 5.8 percent.

Per unit labor costs for the first three months of this year, however, increased at an annual rate of 6.3 percent. Productivity, measured in terms of output per man-hour, rose 2.1 percent. Labor costs, in short, are rising at a faster tempo than productivity.

If the "inflation psychology" of the 1960s could be converted to a "productivity psychology" for the 1970s, much of the nation's trade and international payments problems could be resolved. That switch has not yet occurred.

MR. SPECTATOR

It's Really True

This just has to be one of the better pictures to come out of the efforts to clean up the county during the recent Johnny Horizon day. We are sorry we couldn't get it in sooner but the paper had little room last Sunday in the regular news columns so we held it over for today's Mr. Spectator.

What is it?
It's a picture of Fred Wanzanried, local businessman, president of the Chamber of Commerce and pilot, taken while he was donating his time in aiding the cleanup at the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

Some planes sit outside on the "line" and are fair prey to sparrows, who like to build nests under the cowlings. Fred found this nest in one of these planes and was snapped just as he made up his mind to remove it.

This is one reason why all airplanes are given a close inspection by pilots before they take them up. If some pilots don't make such an inspection then this "find" by Fred should convince them that they should do just that.

Would be embarrassing being airborne with a burning bird's nest on the hot cylinders — now, wouldn't it?

TRAVEL PICTURES

Mr. and Mrs. Spectator and several other guests enjoyed a night out for dinner and a slide show at the John Detweiler home

TIMELY QUOTES

When I talk with my friends in the army, they often say they are fed up with the war. I am fed up with it, too, but I am only a soldier who must follow orders. I have no choice.

Cpl. Hoang Van Nhi, 32, a six-year veteran in the North Vietnamese Army.

I'm accident prone. I've been in shipwrecks, car crashes, fires, floods and tornadoes. I've had every disaster but bubonic plague and a husband — and there's still time for those.

Edith Russell, 93, one of five survivors of the sinking of the Titanic.

WASHINGTON — Serious consideration must be given to the candidacy of Dr. William J. McGill, president of Columbia University, for Poltroon of the Year. Even those academics at Berkeley who think Angela Davis is an agrarian reformer will find it hard to top McGill's achievement in surrendering a student body of 15,000 to 150 militants.

McGill moved into the front-runner spot in the cowardly stakes by deciding to permit demonstrating students to continue to hold four campus buildings without summoning the cops to throw them out. "It is a very frustrating problem," Dr. McGill told the New York Times, "to have a university held captive by a few militant barricades." Nevertheless, he opted to ride this one out — thereby employing a phrase that should win him a footnote in the dreary history of the era's academic timidity. Well, there is no law against gutlessness, even when practiced in ivory towers, but somewhere in the fine print of its agreement with students and parents Columbia must have signified an intent to run a school, not a revolution. School buildings are needed to assemble students for classes, and McGill's cop-out surely is a breach of a contract which says Columbia will do its best to teach in exchange for tuition checks made payable to the university.

Under the McGill system, however, professors were forced to hold classes in their apartments, on the campus lawns, in fraternity houses and even in the West End, a neighborhood saloon. Learning may be where one can find it, but Columbia's makeshift arrangement was not what parents were paying for.

Earlier, McGill had summoned city police when the university's own security force proved unable to handle a bunch of violent anti-war protesters. But McGill was so "shocked" when the city cops moved in and started shoving the demonstrators out of the way that he ordered the gendarmes off the campus and told them not to come back. So far as is known, McGill took no disciplinary action against students who pelted the city cops with rocks, bottles and eggs.

With McGill, apparently anything goes. He lifted not so much as a little finger when a band of instructors from other universities seized control of the Pupin Physics Laboratory and vowed to stay until all scientific work for the war effort was ended. If it matters, Columbia claims it has done no war work since a student uprising in 1968. Meanwhile, everybody did his thing. Black students seized the basement of Lewisohn Hall, where the university's Urban Affairs Center is located, and said they'd stay there until the center did a better job for the surrounding community. (A Cadillac in every garage?) Other "students" demanded that Columbia sell its stock in corporations engaged in war work or doing business in South Africa. (It's okay to do business with Communist North Vietnam, of course.)

All this may have been in the mind of Columbia's prestigious Prof. Lionel Trilling when he told an audience of Washington officials and scholars that there was a crisis of confidence about the goals of the American academic community. Dr. Trilling, one of only three scholars at Columbia to be given the title of University Professor, told the first annual Jefferson Lecture in the Humanities that the recent campus trend "rejects and seeks to discredit the very concept of mind."

At any rate, there was an uncanny timeliness to Dr. Trilling's comment that among teachers and students alike there is a substitute celebration of the "ideology of irrationalism," in which knowledge is attained through intuition, inspiration, revelation and even violence. William J. McGill, meet Dr. Trilling.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Eating Salt

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a habit that has my parents worried sick. I am 17 and for years have had a strange desire for salt.

It has turned into a craving. I buy myself a box of salt and before a week has passed it is all gone. I turn the box up and "drink" out of it, or suck it up through a straw like soda.

In the morning I eat no breakfast; instead I get the salt box. In fact, I keep a box on my night table because I wake up at night and eat it, too.

Is this a problem or are my parents overreacting? — R. P. Golly, what an appetite for salt! Yes, you have a problem, either psychological or physical.

More likely (I suspect) it is a psychological quirk on your part, although an adrenal gland deficiency can cause a craving for salt and if you were my daughter, I'd have that checked out just to be safe.

The essential element in salt is sodium. We need a certain amount for health. With an ordinary diet, we probably get five to 10 times as much as we need — you are consuming vastly more than that.

I presume that your young kidneys are functioning well and disposing of that excess salt, but for how long? This could pose a serious problem as you get older.

As it is, I'm surprised you don't mention an overweight problem. Excessive sodium causes water retention in the body tissues, and water is heavy. Or are you looking somewhat puffy and heavy?

No, I don't think your parents are overreacting. I'd react more vigorously.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send your booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," for which I enclose 35 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope.

And is it more difficult to lose weight while on the birth control pill? — Mrs. I. C.

Not more difficult to lose "real weight," but in some cases more difficult to lose "water weight."

That is, some women tend to accumulate fluid in the tissues when they use "the pill." This isn't true of all; just some.

Well, water is heavy, and it also takes up space, so such women will be heavier and their clothes will be a bit tighter, depending on how much fluid they accumulate.

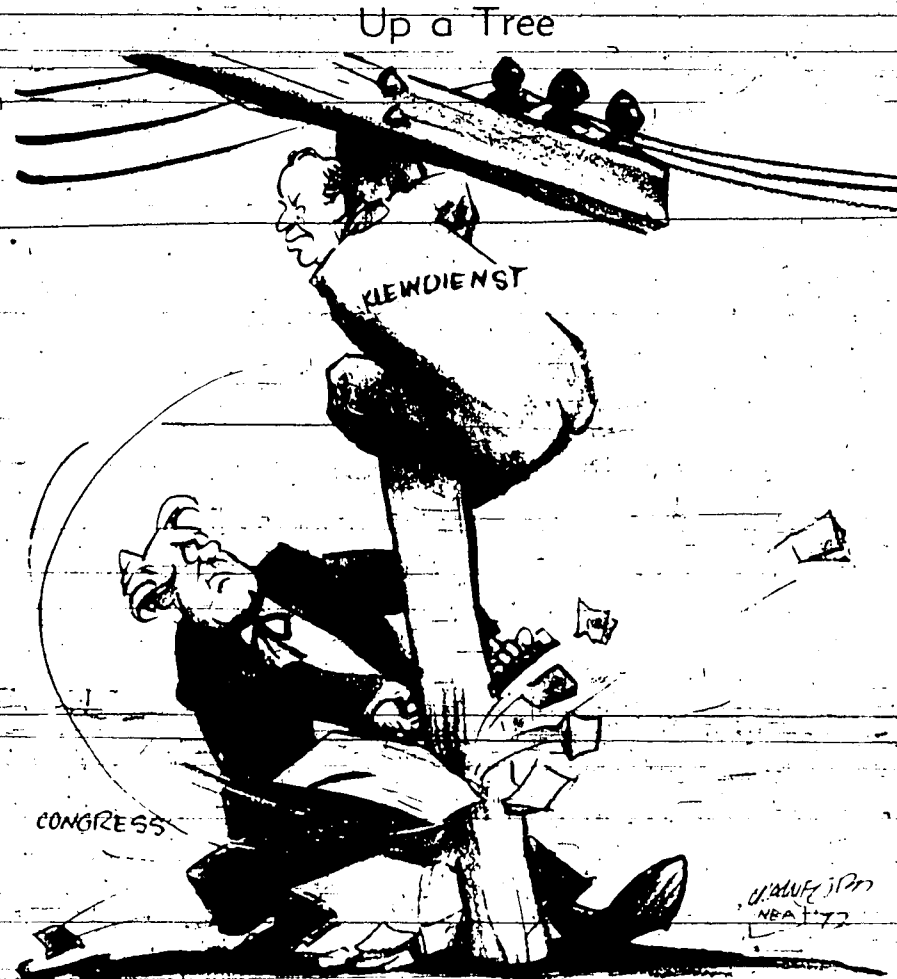

Thus a woman who retains fluid with the pill may very well think that she is "gaining weight" in spite of dieting, and the bathroom scales will endorse her belief.

Nonetheless, she may actually be losing flesh, even though the fluid gain balances or overbalances it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has diabetes. Can he have bread? What kind? What vegetables? Baked potato? Cereals? — Mrs. R. J.

He can have any kind of any of the things you list — but in limited amounts. Usually half a slice to one slice of bread at each meal is allowable. Vegetables vary in carbohydrate content, and carbohydrates must be limited. Potato and rice are higher than carrots or beets, for example.

Your husband's doctor should provide him with an appropriate diet.

ART BUCHWALD

"Muskie" Recalled

WASHINGTON — Presidential Motors announced last week that it was recalling the "Muskie," once considered the hottest model on the road.

In a terse statement announcing the recall, Presidential Motors said, "Engineering difficulties and lack of consumer acceptance have forced us to recall the 'Muskie'."

The story behind the rise and fall of the "Muskie" is one of the great stories of automobile history. It was originally developed by such great presidential designers as Averill Harriman, Clark Clifford, Sol Lanowitz, Milton Shapp of Pennsylvania and John Gilligan of Ohio. They wanted a quiet model that would hold the middle of the road, had the confidence of the people and was safe at any speed.

From a design point of view, it had to appeal to the little man, but at the same time it had to look like a Lincoln.

After working at their drawing boards for two years, they came up with the "Muskie," a name they were sure would have consumer appeal.

Before investing money in the model, the manufacturer took surveys all over the country. They discovered that, compared to other models that would be offered in 1972, the "Muskie" was leading 2 to 1. At one point, it was rated more popular than the "Nixon," and Presidential Motors was sure it had a winner on its hands.

As a result of the surveys, millions of dollars were allotted for a high-powered advertising campaign. The "Muskie" was described as a front-runner, unbeatable in the cities and in the countryside. It was designed for comfort and had something for everybody — the poor, the farmers, the blue-collar workers, the businessmen. It came in all colors and all sizes. It was, according to the ads, the best buy for 1972.

With an overconfidence not seen in automobile circles since Detroit put out the "Romney," the manufacturers took the "Muskie" up to New Hampshire for road testing.

Everything was going along fine when suddenly, in front of a national TV audience, the "Muskie" broke down in Manchester, N.H.

Presidential Motors was appalled. All the time and effort and money invested in the model was wiped out by one small radiator leak.

To make matters worse, the press reported that the "Muskie" had a very short fuse and every once in a while went out of control.

The engineers and designers took another look at it and tried to repair the damage before trial runs in Florida. But the "Muskie" came in a bad fourth in the race, and some people at Presidential Motors decided they had another "Romney" on their hands.

The advertising money was cut back, and the people working on the "Muskie" campaign were taken off salary.

PAUL HARVEY

The Plot

When the ITT offer to San Diego to help finance the GOP convention has been milked of its last headlines, it'll be obvious the "conspiracy" was imaginary, but its promoters hope a shadow of suspicion will remain.

The ITT, the GOP and the pseudo-sinister plot.

Audiences keep asking: "What's this ITT thing all about?" So as we say in the Ozarks, let's "shuck right down to the cob." What's it about? It's much to do about nothing.

Columist Jack Anderson describes himself as a liberal who especially enjoys embarrassing conservatives. And he admits making a conscious effort to dramatize disclosures, thus making them sound sensational to attract attention.

So he disclosed information that a corporation which owns hotels in San Diego had offered to help San Diego finance this year's GOP convention. (He knows that there is nothing either covert or unusual about such contributions.)

And it was public knowledge that our government had previously rendered an antitrust decision favorable to that corporation.

So he merely lied in a manner suggesting that "ITT" had bought a favorable ruling from the GOP.

Despite the conspicuous irrelevance, Democrats on the Hill, desperate for an election year issue, grabbed this and hung on — and hung on.

For Sen. Ted Kennedy, any issue which would be examined by his Senate Judiciary Committee afforded a wonderful nomination year opportunity to keep himself on TV. It was obvious to insiders why Kennedy kept ITT's president coming back day after day to answer the same questions. Unfortunately, it was not obvious to everyone.

The most obtuse utterance by Kennedy got so much media repetition the average grass-roots American began to imagine that it "must make sense."

It didn't. It didn't have to. But it did serve its patently political purpose.

With a flourish, Kennedy and company went to a Denver hospital for a dramatic bedside interrogation of a sick woman. She did not say what they hoped she would say but subsequent statements by Kennedy made it sound as if she had.

And many listener-viewers were left with the impression that a professional lobbyist was "guilty" for doing what professional lobbyists are "licensed" to do.

Did ITT offer to help San Diego finance the convention? Certainly.

Did ITT officials petition Washington officials for a favorable antitrust decision from government last year? Yes. If they didn't they should have.

Did ITT seek to influence top-level politics in a Latin-American nation? I expect it did. Most corporations operating in foreign markets do.

So if the true life whodunit is not a comedy, it's certainly not a mystery. The gossip columnist was merely doing his thing. And politician Kennedy was doing his thing.

BERRY'S WORLD

Final arguments slated on island

BOISE (UPI) — Final arguments were scheduled for today in a case involving the disputed ownership of three islands on the Snake River in Hagerman Valley.

Both sides rested their cases Tuesday after presenting conflicting testimony before U.S. District Judge Ray McNichols who continued the case.

Willis W. Ritter, a federal judge from Salt Lake City, brought the suit to determine ownership of the three islands adjacent to his Thousand Springs Ranch in Hagerman Valley. The federal government also claims ownership of the land, and ordered Ritter to get off in 1970. The government wants to give the islands to the state for use as a wildlife refuge.

Tuesday, McNichols promised both sides additional time to submit briefs if they desired, but warned he will begin trial of a case involving San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto. He said once that begins he does not know how soon he can get back to deciding the Ritter case.

In contending he and not the federal government owns the land Ritter has maintained he and others have owned and used it continuously since 1896.

The government first questioned private ownership in 1955 when a new survey was ordered.

Walter Kelly, 80, an employee of the main ranch between 1921 and 1926 and 1929 until Ritter bought the property in 1954, testified for the government he never saw the islands used.

He said he was farm manager from 1940 to 1954.

He also said a former owner of Thousand Springs Ranch claimed she did not own the islands, but, under cross examination, took back that testimony.

Attorneys for Ritter presented rebuttal testimony from John Halverson, a Jerome land leveler who built a road to the largest of the three islands for Ritter, in 1956, that the same former owner told him she used to take a wagon and a team of horses to the island.

Ritter testified on his own behalf Tuesday, saying he thought he acquired title to the islands when he bought the ranch in 1954. He said he tried unsuccessfully, on a government suggestion, to clear title under the federal "color of title act" after his ownership was questioned. He said he filed his case because the bureau of land management tried to evict him.

He also testified that surveyor's notes, land patents and deeds all failed to mention the islands in question.

A key issue in the case appears to be whether government surveyors overlooked the islands intentionally or unintentionally back in 1893 and whether they existed in 1890 when Idaho became a state.

Protest march set

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — Protest groups will hold a rally and march at Idaho State University Thursday, with author-lawyer Mark Lane as chief speaker.

Other speakers at the noon rally on the main quadrangle will be graduate student David Koko, a Vietnam veteran; and Willie Ludlow, a democratic candidate for the Idaho Legislature.

After the campus rally there will be a march to downtown Pocatello ending at the Federal Building.

Gem justice named

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Tuesday named 12 persons, including the chief justice of the Idaho Supreme Court, to the National Highway Safety Advisory Committee for terms expiring in 1975.

Justice Henry F. McQuade, Boise, and Mrs. James R. Emric, San Bruno, Calif., a public relations specialist for Standard Oil of California, are two westerners named as new members of the committee.

The 35-member committee, established in 1966, advises the Transportation Department on highway safety standards and similar matters.

Members of the group, which meets at least once a year, receive up to $100 a day while on committee work.

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — A Salem man was given a traffic citation for failure to yield the right of way after he hit another auto. The man's occupation: right-of-way agent, State Highway Division.

Alerts agencies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Tuesday night that he has alerted all federal agencies that might be able to assist in this mining tragedy at Sunshine mine.

"I grieve with the wives and the families of those miners who have died and join in prayers of all Idahoans for a safe return of those still trapped," he said.

Five miners were known dead and 77 others were missing following a fire at the 3,700 foot level of the largest silver mine in the nation in Kellogg, Idaho.

Officials at lunch

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — Officials of Sunshine Mining Co. were conducting their annual shareholders meeting Tuesday when news of a fire at the company's largest silver mine reached here.

The meeting had just adjourned for lunch when word of the mining disaster which claimed five lives at Sunshine Mine, 40 miles west of here, reached the directors.

Irwin P. Underweiser, president and chairman of the board, along with other directors and company officials, left immediately for the mine offices in Big Creek Canyon, near Kellogg, Idaho.

Underweiser said, "This is a rather tense situation. It's a matter of waiting to see what the (the rescue crews) can find."

Lewiston hospital to expand

LEWISTON (UPI) — The administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday outlined expansion plans as part of a $6.4 million project to make the facility into a regional comprehensive medical care center for the five county area of north central Idaho.

Speaking at a noon meeting of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce, St. Helen Frances said the only problem that might delay the expansion was obtaining adequate funding on schedule.

She said the proposed expansion will allow an increase from 103 to 138 beds and will add an additional 27,000 square feet of floor space at the hospital.

Governors pledge GOP party unity

WHITESULPHURSPRINGS, W.Va. (UPI)—Pledging party unity and a campaign coast-to-coast for the re-election of President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, the nation's Republican governors left their annual spring meeting today.

In a conference that was almost totally absent of any public differences over political issues, the governors formally declared their support for Nixon's foreign and domestic policies but made no mention of the most controversial administration policy at all—the increased U.S. bombing in Vietnam.

They praised Nixon for his "daring initiative," heard GOP national chairman Robert Dole lash out at Democrats, received a pre-campaign briefing from presidential campaign chief John Mitchell and gave Agnew an enthusiastic reception at a gala banquet that ended the two-day affair Tuesday night.

Nixon adviser airs controls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's top economic adviser does not believe wage-price controls can be lifted before the end of this year, unless something highly unexpected happens.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said working people are benefitting from the controls, and added that unemployment will drop from the present 6 per cent to 5 per cent by December.

As for the duration of the controls, he told a news conference Tuesday, "I can't make you any promises. It's possible that something might occur...we might enter the Garden of Eden. But it's very unlikely that Phase II will end before the end of the year."

Phase II is the era of wage and price controls that began after the economic freeze ended last November.

The administration—meanwhile came under renewed attack from organized labor for the Cost of Living Council's decision to lift controls from 5 million small businesses.

"The whole apparatus is government controlled. The chief honcho is Secretary of the Treasury John Connally and he is getting his way. His way is to hit the little guy and protect the big guy," said Albert Zack, public relations director for the AFL-CIO.

Zack made the comments after a meeting of the AFL-CIO executive council.

Television Schedules Officers file innocent pleas

Wednesday, May 3, 1972

At 6:30 p.m. on channels 25, 7b and 8—Hall of Fame Special. This is Arthur Miller's 1968 Broadway hit. Set in a Manhattan brownstone, the drama is a graphic portrait of bitter memories and angry recriminations. The protagonists are two estranged brothers—a policeman and a surgeon—who have avoided each other for 16 years. The play brought Emmys to George C. Scott, the late David Burns, and director Fielder Cook. Worth seeing again.

W. J. LEWIS charged

D. S. MURPHY charged

3rd suspect to give plea

WASHINGTON, Pa. (UPI)—Silous Huddleston, the third suspect in the Yablonski murder case to tell all he knows to investigators, returns to court today to plead guilty.

Albert W. Pass, a top United Mine Workers official implicated by Huddleston's testimony, was arrested by FBI agents Tuesday in Middlesboro, Ky., in connection with the murder of Joseph A. Yablonski, a UMW rebel leader.

Sources close to the case said that Huddleston, 63, former president of a UMW local in LaFollette, Tenn., signed a 25-page confession. His statement implicates UMW officials and details his own role in the conspiracy that ended in the Dec. 31, 1969, murders of Yablonski, his wife and daughter, the sources said.

Special Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague planned to have the statement read in court by an FBI agent, the sources said. The confession implicates Pass, 51, secretary-treasurer of UMW District 19 covering all Tennessee and eastern Kentucky, as a key conspirator.

For art lovers

DETROIT (UPI)—For the second year in a row, more than 1 million visitors enjoyed the 101 galleries and auditorium of the Detroit Institute of Arts. The city-owned museum reports that 1971 saw 1,049,527 attendance, second highest figure in history.

Officers file innocent pleas

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twenty-three policemen and one policeman pleaded not guilty Tuesday to charges they accepted bribes from gamblers amounting to approximately $1 million over a period of four years.

Bail was set at $1,000 each for the 24, who if convicted face a maximum of 21 years in jail.

District Attorney Eugene Gold of Brooklyn said some 40 professional gamblers made payments of about $20,000 a month while the ring was in operation. The policemen under indictment allegedly received about $10,000 a year as their share with their superiors getting from $15,000 to $20,000 annually.

Gold, who jointly with Deputy Police Commissioner William P. McCarthy, announced the charges, said the operation was very businesslike.

Visits academy

BURLEY — Jake Hodge, Burley, will visit the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., this week according to Army officials.

Hodge, manager of KBAR radio, will tour the facility with a group of businessmen and high school guidance counselors from Idaho. The purpose of the program is to acquaint the visitors with all aspects of academy life.

2 Washington men face fraud charges

SEATTLE (UPI)—Two men have been charged in a fraud scheme of trying to impersonate "D. B. Cooper"—the man who received $200,000 ransom from Northwest Airlines and then parachuted into the night.

Charges were filed against William J. Lewis, 33, Silverdale, Wash., and Donald S. Murphy, 49, of Bremerton, Wash., for conspiring to defraud.

Angela, attorney testify

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Angela Davis and John Thorne, attorney for a "Soledad Brother," took the witness stand Tuesday in a session to determine their client-attorney relationship prior to the Marin County shootings of 1970.

With the jury excused, Miss Davis took the stand for the first time at her murder, kidnap and conspiracy trial and told the judge she was a client of Thorne's and worked for him as an investigator in a case involving slain convict George Jackson.

She conceded that Thorne had never been her "attorney of record" but said she had hired him in May, 1970 to represent her in connection with a book she had planned to write. Miss Davis' 30 minutes on the stand was strictly limited to questions about her professional relationship with Thorne.

Prosecutor Albert W. Harris Jr. was trying to prove that Miss Davis, an avowed Communist and former UCLA philosophy instructor, called Thorne on Aug. 5, 1970, two days before the Marin County courthouse kidnappings in which a judge and three abductors were killed.

Miss Davis is charged with supplying the guns used by Jackson's younger brother Jonathan when he entered the courtroom of Judge Harold Haley, freed three convicts and took the judge and four others hostage, allegedly to demand release of the "Soledad Brothers."

The prosecutor claimed Miss Davis called Thorne, told him she was in San Jose with Jonathan Jackson and that they were going to Santa Cruz so Jackson could "pick up clothes and things." Jonathan Jackson was killed in the courthouse shootout.

Thorne testified that he remembered none of the details outlined by the prosecution and said the phone call had taken place prior to July 21.

Your special YMCA-YWCA Swimming pool number is 734-4112 or 734-4113.

D. B. Cooper was the name given by a man who hijacked a jetliner last Thanksgiving eve and extorted the ransom in marked currency. He ordered the plane to fly to Reno but parachuted en route and has never been found.

The two men are charged with selling the interview with "Cooper" to a former contributing editor of Newsweek, Karl P. Fleming.

Both men, described as real estate developers, were arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Charles Schaaf Tuesday. Schaaf set bail at $50,000 for Lewis and $8,000 for Murphy.

The charges said Lewis, using the name "Seth Thomas" responded to newspaper advertisements placed by Fleming who said he wanted to contact "Cooper" for a confidential interview.

The Ad, placed in a Seattle paper Dec. 23, told D. B. Cooper that he could tell his "poignant story" to "an absolutely trustworthy writer" for a national magazine without jeopardizing his safety "in any way."

Tax benefit

OGDEN, Utah (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service hires an extra 2,500 employees for six months each year to help 1,500 regular workers process income tax returns at the IRS computer center here.

It gave a phone number to call. The indictment said Murphy was introduced to Fleming as Cooper in February. Murphy was allegedly wearing a disguise to match descriptions of Cooper.

He told of the hijacking during a filmed interview and produced copies of three $20 bills on which serial numbers said to be those on the list of bills given to "Cooper" were superimposed.

Fleming was told by Lewis the $30,000 would be held in trust for the legal defense of the hijacker if caught.

Workshop on emergency care slated

TWIN FALLS — A workshop emphasizing the team approach in improving emergency care will be offered to hospital personnel May 10 at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

The workshops are sponsored by the Southeastern Idaho Center for Health Resources, based at Idaho State University, and the Intermountain Regional Medical Program and the LDS Church Health Services Corp., both Salt Lake City.

The objective of the workshop is to identify changing directions of emergency care services, increase nurse skills in evaluating and making judgments for immediate care, and stimulate better communication among emergency care teams and their relations with patients and patients' families.

The program begins at 8 a.m. and runs through the afternoon. Presentations will include a film "Before the Accident," overview of emergency care; small group problem-solving and protocol for nursing actions.

Faculty for the workshop are Judith Roberts, RN, director, associate degree nursing, College of Southern Idaho; Blaine Durrant, executive director, SICHR, Pocatello; Charles Miller, coordinator for hospital education programs, Utah State Hospital Association; Ann Bruton, RN, director, continuing education, LDS Health Services Corp.; and Jean Osborne, RN, project administrator, IRMP, all Salt Lake City.

New bank to open in Hailey in fall

TWIN FALLS — The Bank of Idaho will open a new branch at Hailey this fall.

The Hailey branch and one at Caldwell will be added to 25 branches already operated by the bank, according to Maurice S. Clifton, vice president and manager of the Twin Falls bank.

Bank of Idaho is Idaho's largest state chartered bank and is affiliated with Western Bancorporation with aggregate assets of $12 billion.

Clifton attended a semi-annual meeting of office administration officers in Boise Friday and heard Joseph Bianco, Bank of Idaho president, tell of an eight per cent depositor increase over last year's end.

Total resources gained nearly nine per cent to the present level of $227 million.

U.S. standards weakened by angry boat owners

By WILLIAM B. MEAD
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal standards for treatment of human wastes from boats have been weakened in response to protests from a lobby of angry boat owners, it was learned today.

A spokesman for the Boat Owners Association of the United States greeted word of the revised standards with glee and said the regulations apparently would permit use of improvemachinators, chlorinator devices, which cost $200 to $300.

An Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) source described these devices as "not much more than a mixmaster" which adds chlorine before discharging human wastes into the water.

The new standards, scheduled for public announcement shortly, would impose the standards on new boats in two years and on older boats three years later.

A year ago the EPA proposed standards which would have required more refined treatment, matching that prescribed for municipal sewage plants and designed to keep boat wastes from making lakes and rivers too filthy for swimming.

But EPA sources said that no economical device attaining such a treatment level was available for boats. The EPA suggested holding tanks with pump-out facilities at marinas, but boat owners complained of odor, lack of space and inadequate marina facilities.

One agency source said the weakened standards responded to the boat owners' "tremendous lobby and the furor it raised."

"We were deluged by 6,000 postcards," the source said.

Richard Schwartz, executive director of the Boat Owners Association, said his organization originated the postcards, giving members a choice of signing a message protesting the proposed standards or endorsing them.

Schwartz said 5,000 members signed the protest blank while only 20 endorsed the proposal. "We delivered those cards to EPA at the rate of 500-a-day," Schwartz said.

Law week

TWIN FALLS — "Respect for Law Week" is being stressed by Optimist Clubs throughout the country according to Lyman Davis, president of the Twin Falls club.

The week of May 1-7 has been established as Law Week and the purpose is to make citizens more aware that law is the cement which binds together the sinews of a free society.

Citizens are encouraged to become actively involved in efforts to combat crime and to assume the legal and moral responsibilities of good citizenship, including full cooperation with law enforcement officers, Davis said.

Lincoln gets new 4-H clubs

RICHFIELD — Two new Lincoln County 4-H clubs have been formed, County Agent Ivan C. Hopkins announced today.

The Daisy Dairy 4-H club with 13 members will be led by Mr. and Mrs. Swainston and James Welhausen. Projects will include dairy, beef and beef replacement, horses, sheep, chickens and veterinary science.

Hopkins said officers of the club are Chris Furtado, president; Rex King, vice president; James Swainston, secretary; and Chad Dixon, treasurer. Sergeant at arms will be Sabrina Pugh and others include Kim Pugh, reporter; Delbert Tree, flagbearer; Bret Dixon, roll call chairman; and Gordon Rogers and John Pugh, recreational leaders.

The second club is the Lazy Dazy 4-H Club with Mrs. David Newey as leader. Brenda Brauberger is president of the group with other officers including Anita Tree, vice president; LeAnn Crowther, secretary and reporter; Christ Furtado, game leader.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices moved sharply higher Wednesday on an unconfirmed report the United States had offered a seven-day truce in Vietnam, then began retreating when the State Department issued a denial.

The Dow Jones industrial average, up almost 4 at one point, was ahead 4.60 at 939.80 shortly before 1:15 p.m. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up .045 at 106.53.

Advances led declines, 683 to 605, among the 1,663 issues crossing the tape. The three-hour turnover totaled 9,840,000 shares compared with 9,510,000 traded during the corresponding period Tuesday.

The upward spurt was touched off by a report from the Paris newspaper, France Soir, which said U.S. officials had proposed a seven-day truce in Vietnam. But the State Department said the story was "totally without foundation in fact." That cooled the stock market.

Prices had been mixed in earlier trading. Analysts noted some investors were making selective buys.

Steels, airlines and aircrafts were narrowly mixed.

Motors were higher, chemicals moved upward and oils were mixed.

Rejection of plans scored

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Although the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission (ARBC) recommended rejection of Philadelphia's plans for the 1976 international exposition, officials here feel they still have crucial support in Washington.

"There's nothing to that report," said Mayor Frank L. Rizzo. They made that recommendation at an informal meeting.

The ARBC's Executive Committee Monday recommended against Philadelphia's plan, which was submitted last month.

2 members greeted at TOPS meet

HANSEN — Mrs. Stephanie Godfrey and Mrs. Nada Bowlin were introduced as new members at the TOPS Chapter No. 84 meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

Mrs. Linda Pease, former member, rejoined the group. Mrs. Steelsmith was best loser of the week.

Gainers were required to give reasons for their gains and were sentenced to give the TOPS pledge daily before a full length mirror.

Mrs. Sharan Crossman displayed her five year KOPS necklace which she received at the state meeting last week end.

Mrs. Pat Spahr displayed her charm bracelet. Club members made plans to award charms and charm bracelets to record their success in weight loss. Mrs. Spahr also gave a "gram" diet in which grams instead of calories are counted.

Best monthly loser was Mrs. Betty Rice and runner up, was Mrs. Nola Lyons.

Swimming is an activity that can be done by young and old, support your YMCA-YWCA swimming pool fund.

New plant sighted for Jerome area

JEROME — A mystery factory is in the works for The new factory may settle here if the council agrees to provide water and sewer service and annex land now under option south of Jerome.

The information was disclosed at a Jerome council meeting Tuesday night by Michael Sullivan, liaison between the company and the city.

Sullivan would not disclose the name or type of factory considering location in Jerome, but said cost of construction would fall between $1.5 million and $2 million.

He said the plant would hire between 150 and 200 employees, 70 per cent of them men. He said the plant hopes to hire young people of post high school or college age.

About 12 key people would be moved to Jerome if the plant locates here, he said. Sullivan, who is manager of the Bank of Idaho in Jerome and president of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce, told the council he was acting as a "private citizen" on behalf of the firm.

Sullivan said 29.57 acres of land owned by Katy Smith is under option, but the option is held in a name other than the manufacturing company. The plat is near the Bean Growers Warehouse and the Jerome Cemetery, he said.

Sullivan requested that the council agree to annex the land, rezone it commercial and supply water and sanitation needs. He said the company wants to be annexed because of sewer, water, fire and police protection.

He indicated today the company will not locate in Jerome if the council refuses to annex the acreage.

Jerome Mayor Jack Russell said today the council will survey the land to determine if the city can fulfill the needs requested by the company through Sullivan and will reach a decision "as soon as possible."

Sullivan said the plant would require 30,000 gallons of water daily for climate control which must be maintained at a consistent level. He said the water would not be used in manufacturing and that there will be no pollution, no waste products and no smoke created.

Machinery used in the plant's process and air conditioning would be provided by electricity and gas would be used for heat, Sullivan said.

Factory construction would be a "low-lying" building of 90,000 square feet, Sullivan said. Sullivan said this morning the product manufactured by the plant would be pre-assembled in another area, brought to the Jerome plant for completion and shipped out.

New mayor

BELLEVUE — Water, fire protection and city equipment are the priorities of Bellevue's new mayor, James Pigg.

Pigg was installed Monday night during a brief City Council meeting.

Commissioners appointed were: library, Joe Bergin; streets, Duke Martin, George McKay and Kenneth Wright; water, Mike Ivie, Bergin and Ralph Griffin; city zoning commission, Pigg, McKay and Martin, and building code, Martin.

A regular meeting of the City Council has been set for 8 p.m. Thursday.

3-X theater said moving to Eden soon

EDEN — Duane Foust, who until Monday operated a "Triple X" theater in Jerome, reportedly is moving operations to Eden.

Foust closed the Frontier Theatre in Jerome after he was unable to obtain a city license to dispense beer on the premises. Eden Mayor James Lulow confirmed today that Foust is moving to Eden, but said he has not applied to the council for a beer license.

Foust reportedly is going to re-open the Eden Theater which has been closed for three or four years and Lulow said the general feeling in Eden is that "no one is very happy with the situation."

John Van Orman, chairman of the Jerome County commission, said Foust was granted a county beer license eight or nine months ago when he was operating the Frontier Theatre. He said Foust would have to make application for a transfer of the license to Eden, also in Jerome County, if he intends to serve beer at his new operation. He said Foust has not yet made such application.

The next commission meeting is Monday and Van Orman said that would be the earliest that such a request could come to the commission's attention.

Jerome accident hospitalizes four

JEROME — Four members of a Gooding family are in St. Benedict's Hospital today following a two-vehicle accident Tuesday night.

Injured in the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Jenkins and their two sons, Ralph, 9, and Kolan, 6.

The Jenkins station wagon was headed west on Interstate 80, five miles west of Jerome, when it was struck from the rear by a Gilbert-Kent potato truck from American Falls.

The station wagon went out of control and rolled, tearing the car in half. Household items were strewn over a 200-foot area. Two ambulances were dispatched to the scene. The accident was investigated by Idaho State Police.

The potato truck, after striking the car, ran off the right side of the road but did not overturn. The driver, Richard Allen, was not injured.

The accident is still under investigation by the state police.

Interest slight in Buhl vote

BUHL — Little voter interest was shown in the Tuesday trustee election in Buhl School District #12.

John Honcik in zone 1 was re-elected with 12 votes, running unopposed.

According to James Muscat, school superintendent, the small turnout was lack of issues or controversy before the board.

Hansen talks at Jerome

JEROME — George Hansen, who is seeking Republican nomination to the United States Senate, spoke to farmers and other interested persons Tuesday night.

Hansen told the group that there is no U. S. Senator, Democrat or Republican, west of the state of Kansas on the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee.

Hansen said "it is high time for agriculture to get out of the back seat and take its rightful place in the power structure of this nation."

Fairfield gets aide

FAIRFIELD — Calvin McNeil has been appointed city marshal by the Fairfield Village board and started work Monday.

He replaces Fred Marolf who resigned.

McNeil has been employed in construction work, was former mill employee and with his wife operated the Frontier Cafe for a time.

Lincoln's best

Shoshone wins Lincoln County spelling bee

SHOSHONE — By a narrow margin of one point, Shoshone scored the high points at the county-wide spelling contest held Monday night at Lincoln School.

Shoshone school will thus be host to the event next year.

The American Legion post in Shoshone sponsors the spelling contest, this being the ninth annual event. There were five divisions, with three top winners named in each.

Winners in division 1, grades one and two, were Kirk Duffin, Shoshone; Annie Lou Andreason, Richfield, second, and Teresa Urrutia, Shoshone, third.

Division 2 winners, from grades three and four, were Danny Andreason, Richfield, first; Jodene Manning, Dietrich, second, and Helen Hopkins, Shoshone, third.

In division 3, Shelley Andreason was first, Susan Maestas, second, and Helen Hubschmidt, third, all Richfield.

Division 4 winners were Linda Kinney, Shoshone, first; Louis Ballard, Dietrich, second, and Lori Perron, Dietrich, third, while division 5 winners were Gary McDonald, Shoshone, first; Sheila Sorensen, Dietrich, second, and Wanda Faught, Shoshone, third.

The point system to determine the school ratings showed Shoshone with 12 points, Richfield with 11 and Dietrich with seven.

Jack Bowlin, commander of Shoshone's Legion Post, was in charge of the event. Judges were the three school superintendents, Neil Andreason, Richfield; Kenneth Crothers, Shoshone, and Wayne Perron, Dietrich.

Pronouncers were Mrs. Dale Sluder, Richfield; Rich Sparks, Richfield; John Sabala, Dietrich; Mrs. Joe Pagoaga and the Rev. Michael Fitzgibbons, Shoshone. Guide was Harry Eden and Mrs. Elmer Terry was clerk.

Gooding retains trustees

GOODING — Rod Glauner and Arden Stutzman were re-elected to three-year terms in Tuesday's school board election in Gooding.

Glauner was opposed in district 4, northwest of town, by Lloyd Lierman. Glauner received 34 votes to 15 for Lierman.

Stutzman, from district 3, northeast of town, was unopposed and received five votes.

Postponed

TWIN FALLS — The Salmon Tract Community Farm Bureau meeting has been postponed from tonight to May 10 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Pastoor.

Cassia board studying petitions requesting vote on subdistricting

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Cassia County school trustees have taken under advisement separate petitions filed from Malta and Declo requesting a subdistricting election.

The petitions were filed in an effort to place the issue of subdistricts for the two areas on the ballot for May 15.

A subdistrict question for the Burley-High School attendance area will be on the ballot.

Herman Bedke, school district attorney, today charged that "Once the subdistricts are voted in, it could be next to impossible to ever dissolve them in the future."

Both Bedke and Norval Wildman, school trustee, said a subdistrict in Declo wouldn't have a chance financially to pay for bond elections to finance new schools, because of the area's low assessed valuations.

Bedke also said that should the subdistricts be approved by the voters, all bond elections would still have to be approved by the school board. He said there were no provisions for setting up separate trustees over the subdistricts under Idaho law. The Burley subdistrict, which will be voted on May 15, must receive a majority vote throughout the county to pass.

The boundaries for the Burley subdistrict include all of the school district north of the 800 South Road and west of the 450 East Road.

Five trustees will also be elected May 15 as a result of recent rezoning of trustee districts. Also on the ballot will be the five mill maintenance and operations levy, which is voted on annually.

The special school board meeting was conducted by W. B. Whiteley, chairman of the board.

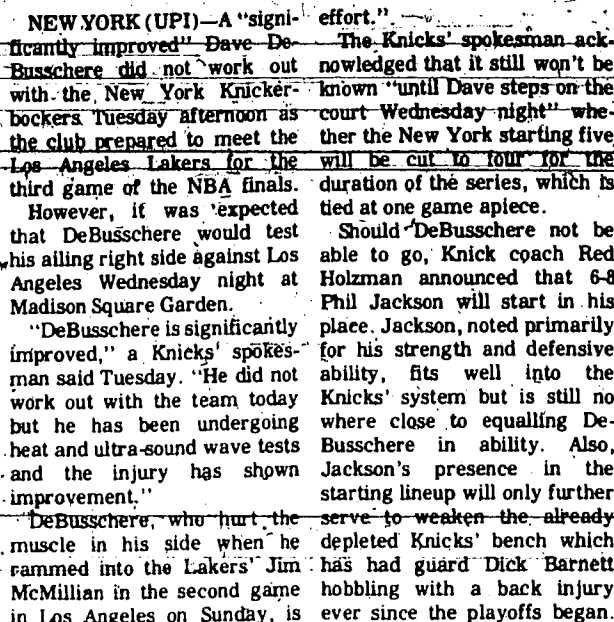

In other business, the trustees discussed the four separate ballots needed for the coming election.

polling places are Burley High School, Oakley High School, Bean Grower's Warehouse at Milner, all zone 1; Southwest Elementary School, zone 2; Burley Junior High School, zone 3; Springdale Elementary School, zone 4; Albion Elementary School; Almo Elementary, Declo City Hall and Raft River High School at Malta, all zone 5.

Downtown backhoe topples

OPERATOR OF this backhoe reportedly escaped injury today when a cave-in occurred at the old Wylie Drug Store location on Shoshone Street North. Romie Miller, employee of J. A. Clawson Construction Co., was tearing out concrete around the excavation left by removal of the store, when a small slab of concrete and a steel girder gave way, pitching the equipment into the hole. Miller jumped and landed in the excavation. Clawson said he was taken to the hospital for examination but appeared to be uninjured.

Jerome frosh cop track win

Jerome frosh cop track win

JEROME — Norm Cochran, Tolman and Allison came up with double victories Tuesday afternoon as the Jerome frosh burley's Britt Bodily, who cleared 6 feet, 1/2 inch in the high jump and took the long jump at 17-11 1/4.

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Ray Fosse's two-run double ballixed a three-run rally in the sixth inning Tuesday night and paced the Cleveland Indians to a 4-2 victory over the Texas Rangers.

Gaylord Perry struck out 12 batters enroute to his third American League victory although he was knocked out in the eighth inning when the Rangers scored both their runs.

Steve Mingori finished up to earn the save.

news about the people you know

Valley Living

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: About four months ago, the house across the street was sold to a "father and son"—or so we thought. We later learned it was an older man about 50 and a young fellow about 24.

This was a respectable neighborhood before this "odd couple" moved in. They have all sorts of strange looking company. Men who look like women, and women who look like men, blacks, whites, Indians, and yesterday I even saw two nuns go in there.

They must be running some sort of business, or a club. There are motorcycles, expensive sports cars, and even bicycles parked in front and on the lawn. They keep their shades drawn so you can't see what's going on inside but they must be up to no good, or why the secrecy?

We called the police department and they asked if we wanted to press charges. They said unless the neighbors were breaking some law there was nothing they could do.

Abby, these weirdos are wrecking our property values! How can we improve the quality of this once-respectable neighborhood?

UP IN ARMS

DEAR UP: You could move.

DEAR ABBY: Eleven years ago I severed all relations with my parents, sisters and brothers, and left home. I came to New York, over a thousand miles away from my old home town.

I am married now and have two kids, ages seven and five. They keep asking me where their grandparents (my parents) are.

I don't know where they are, and frankly, I don't care if I ever see them again, but I don't want to tell my kids that I also don't want to lie and tell my children that my parents are dead.

What should I tell them? I can't put it off much longer.

RUNAWAY

DEAR RUNAWAY: Tell them that you last saw your parents in — (whatever town you left them in). However, it's not necessary to tell your children how you feel about your parents.

DEAR ABBY: I never miss your column because it's nice to know that some people have problems that make mine seem minor.

The other day, one touched a sensitive nerve. I am referring to the lady who complained because her husband ignored her and watched sports on television.

Where does she get the nerve to complain about a thing like that? At least her husband is home to come to bed.

Abby, I'm a Navy wife, and like all Navy wives, I'm a "part-time widow." My husband is gone at least six months out of the year. I'm not complaining. We chose this life, and it's been fairly good to us.

I don't particularly enjoy watching sports on TV, but when my husband is home, if that's what he wants to do, I sit at his feet and knit or crochet for our kids. I don't waste our precious time together doing housework. I don't nag or complain if he's messy. When he leaves the house, I straighten things up.

I'm not saying our marriage is perfect. We have our fights, but we've placed a higher value on our time together because we're so little.

Please remind these complaining women to enjoy their husbands now, for tomorrow they may not be here.

NAVY WIFE: NORFOLK, VA.

DEAR WIFE: You've done it, very well. Thanks for writing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D. K. IN S. F.: If you have to ask if you are "old" enough, the answer is NO!

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6776, L. A., CALIF. 90008 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Mrs. Cheney heads TF Ladies of Elks

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. H. E. Cheney was installed president of the Twin Falls Ladies of Elks Tuesday night.

She succeeds Mrs. Ray McBride and was installed with other new officers in the Elks Temple during annual ceremonies.

Other officers are Mrs. David McKinster, president-elect; Mrs. Roy H. Russell, second vice president; Mrs. Gary Rolan, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald Sharp, historian; Mrs. Pierce Roan, auditor, and directors, Mrs. E. M. McCurdy, Mrs. Donald McKinster, Mrs. Keith Burgess, Mrs. Ray McBride, Mrs. John Leinen and Mrs. Dorner Hertsch.

Mrs. Clayton Rudd served as mistress of ceremonies for the banquet and Mrs. Weldon Haskins, past president of the Twin Falls Ladies of Elks, was installing officer. She was assisted by Mrs. Larry Groves.

Theme of the event was "Smiles and Flowers." About 75 members and guests attended the event.

Wendell nurse attends conclave

WENDELL — Ruby Crosby, Wendell, is among six Idaho nurses attending the American Nurses Association convention being held April 30-May 5 in Detroit, Mich.

Issues of vital interest to registered nurses and users of nursing services will be discussed at the 48th national convention.

About 7,000 registered nurses are attending the 1972 convention with 1,053 of them serving in the house of delegates, voting body of the association, which in the course of its meetings, will set the policies and priorities the ANA will follow in the next biennium.

A highlight of the session will be the ceremony honoring the recipient of the Mary Mahoney Award, presented to the individual or group contributing the most to the advancement of equal opportunity for minority groups in nursing. The award is named for Mary Eliza Mahoney, first black graduate nurse in the United States.

GF group observes Poppy Day

GLENN'S FERRY — The Glenns Ferry American Legion Auxiliary observed its Poppy Day Monday by selling the handmade red poppies made by hospitalized veterans.

The poppy sale helped to honor more than half a million Americans who died and the nearly one million wounded during World Wars I and II, as well as the Korean War and the current Vietnam conflict.

Contributions from the sale of the poppies have aided as many as 12,000 disabled war veterans who augment their incomes by making the small red blossoms.

Riding club practice set Sunday

GLENN'S FERRY — First practice drill for the Three Island Riding Club drill team will be at 2 p.m. Sunday at the arena.

Riding outfits for the coming year will be bronze-color hats and pants, long-sleeve white blouses and royal blue ties, according to Mrs. Keith Christenson, drill leader.

A rodeo is planned for May 12-13. Members will begin accumulating points for prizes to be awarded at the end of the summer. There will be first, second and third place prizes in all three age groups.

TF Magic Chapter meets

TWIN FALLS — Magic Chapter No. 82, Order of Eastern Star, met in stated session Monday evening with Thelma Brown, worthy matron, presiding.

Special flag tribute was given by Maxine McCollum.

Marian Langdon, junior past matron, was escorted to the east and she gave the report on her year as worthy matron. Other annual reports were received from the secretary, Emily Ballard; treasurer, Dortha Shorthouse, and the finance committee by Milton Ballard. Ballard also read a tentative budget for the ensuing year as proposed by the finance committee.

Mrs. Brown announced that Dottie Brim has offered a tablecloth for the year's ESTAR project.

A program was presented in observance of Mother's Day. Carolyn Pence read an article directed to the mothers of young children; Martha Watson to the mothers of teens and Mrs. Ballard to the grandmothers.

Special music was provided by Richard Pence, accompanied by Maxine Larson. Worthy patron, Harold Brown, read an article, "What is a Mother?" The conductresses gave pink carnations to all mothers present.

It was announced birthday night will be observed in September for those with birthdays in the next five months.

One cent per year will be donated by each birthday member. Birthday cake will be served in the dining room. This will be one of the worthy matron's special projects.

At the next meeting, May 15, the Order of DeMolay will present a special program for mothers. This is a special ceremony and all members are urged to attend.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Langdon, Lola Vazquez and Lillian Moran. The dining room was decorated with Maypoles.

Car seat tips

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you purchased children's car seats before April 1 of last year and want to know if what you have is safe, you may send 20 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Ask for a copy of National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's booklet, "What to Buy in Child Restraint Systems." The booklet shows you how to weigh the efficacy of various restraint systems and points to consider in evaluating a previously purchased car seat.

SHARI KOOPMAN

salutatorian

Hagerman senior leaders named

HAGERMAN — Shari Koopman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koopman, has been named valedictorian of the 1972 graduating class of Hagerman High School.

Marla Waite, daughter of Mrs. Bernus Waite, is the salutatorian.

Transferring to Hagerman High School in her Junior year, Miss Koopman has a grade point average of 3.76. While attending schools in California, she was a member of the California Scholarship Federation (CSF), the marching band and chorus.

At Hagerman, she has been active in the drill team, pep club, and National Honor Society. She won the Miss Talent at the Gooding County Junior Miss Pageant last year, and was state winner of the National Music Teachers Association in piano for 1972.

She is the current secretary for the Hagerman chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, and senior class secretary-treasurer and past president of the Methodist MYF.

Miss Waite has grade point of 3.48. She has been active in FHA, drill team, chorus, pep club and served as treasurer for the local chapter of the National Honor Society.

She was both Junior Varsity and Varsity cheerleader, and received the Cheerleader Award last year. She has participated in the one-act plays and the all-school play, and is the photographer on the annual staff. She is a member of the LDS Church and is currently serving as junior Sunday school secretary. She is also a Seminary graduate.

KIM SCHMIDT
wins award

Tf miss receives stipened

TWIN FALLS — Kim Marie Schmidt has been granted admission to the College of Idaho and selected as a recipient of an honor student scholarship.

Miss Schmidt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Schmidt, Twin Falls.

The four-year scholarship is awarded in recognition of outstanding high school academic achievement and without regard to financial need. As a recipient of this award, she will be granted honors of entrance by the College of Idaho.

O'Leary PTA head elected

TWIN FALLS — Darl Gleed was installed president of Vera C. O'Leary PTA Monday night, in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Pierce Roan.

Other officers installed were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walker, co-vice presidents; Gladys Griffen, secretary, and Donna Crist, treasurer.

Gleed named the following committee heads: Colleen Beutler, hospitality; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson, membership; Penney Mathews, publicity; Edna Lee, budget and finance; Donna Crist, welfare; Mary Joeger, procedure book; Cathy Roper, Founder's Day; Jean Munger, magazines, and Beverly Sturgill, program and special events.

The O'Leary PTA unit was awarded the Gold Leaf Honor Roll Unit Award and Topper Award for district 4, for being the only unit in the state of Idaho with membership increasing to 264 members this year, compared to 106 last year.

Gleed announced that next year's project for the PTA will be the purchase of a career development audio visual aid program for the school.

Carl Snow, principal, then introduced the staff and briefly discussed what next year's seventh graders should expect at the school. The sixth graders and their parents attending the meeting were taken on a tour of the building, after which refreshments were served.

Guild meet set Thursday

BUHL — The Buhl Art Guild will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Burkhardt.

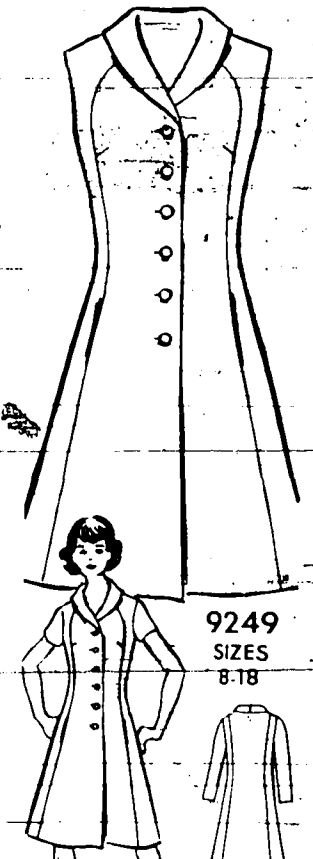

The meeting had been previously scheduled for 2 p.m. at the home of Vivian Watt.

All members are asked to bring their favorite art instruction book and be prepared to give a brief resume of the highlights of the book.

Anyone interested in art lessons is encouraged to attend the meeting as plans for lessons by Novella Lazaros will be made. Persons wishing to enroll in the art class but not attending the meeting may contact Lillian Voeller.

South's bid of four spades represented a slight stretch. His opening bid was just about minimum and North's jump to three spades had strongly invited a game bid but not forced South to make that call.

If you are going to overbid you need to know how to play tough hands and South certainly handled this one with real skill.

If West had opened a trump and East taken his ace and played a second trump South would have no way to collect 10 tricks, but West made the normal lead of the king of clubs.

South looked over the hand carefully and asked himself the important question from the code word ARCH. How can I make this contract?

The answer was that he needed six trump tricks plus the three side aces and king of hearts. This meant he had to work out a cross-ruff to collect a total of six trump tricks.

He would have liked to duck the first club in hopes that the suit would be continued but East's deuce meant that there was a good chance that West would shift to a trump so South took the first club.

Then he played ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, ace and king of hearts, ruffed a heart, ruffed an other diamond, ruffed a other heart, ruffed a third diamond and relaxed.

East could overruff and lead a second trump or discard either way South was now sure of his six trump tricks.

Hoover wielded power for nearly half century

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Edgar Hoover wielded power among the mighty as the nation's top law enforcement officer for nearly a half century. He also was highly popular with the public.

Two presidents found the combination unbeatable enough to keep the bulldog-faced Hoover in office years past the mandatory retirement age of 70 with the results that he served longer than any other federal bureaucrat in modern times.

His last years were among the stormiest as the FBI came under increasing fire from politicians, left wing groups, civil rights organizations, and even some of his staunchest admirers who felt it was time for Hoover to step down.

He paid them little heed. In the "law and order" framework of the Nixon Administration, Hoover spoke out often and loudly, apparently confident the President and his immediate boss, Attorney General John N. Mitchell, would rise to his defense. They did.

In 1970 and 1971, lawsuits were filed against Hoover by disgruntled former employees, by a would-be female agent, by leftist groups who accused him of threatening their civil rights. He was accused by House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs, D-La., and others of wiretapping congressional telephones and of exceeding his authority in the field of civilian surveillance.

His troubles peaked after a fuss with former Democrat Attorney General Ramsey Clark who suggested in a book published in November, 1970, that Hoover had so dominated the FBI with a "self-center concern for his reputation" that the agency sometimes sacrificed effective crime control in a pursuit of personal glory.

An intensely reactive man, Hoover saw red. He called in a Washington Post reporter for a rare interview to denounce Clark as a "jellyfish."

From then on his every action drew attention. Every time he disciplined an employee and it became known, there were headlines. He got a reputation for shipping agents who incurred his wrath to faraway posts. Butte, Mont., became both a favorite and a joke.

Hoover surprised everyone, however, when he told joke after joke on himself at a June, 1971 party in honor of the attorney general's bombastic, blonde wife, Martha Mitchell. He gave official Washington a rare look at this legendary figure and an even rarer glimpse of an unsuspected sense of humor.

Complaints against his regime were nothing new to the director. Thirty years earlier disciplined agents complained he was a tyrannical martinet. But it was this iron discipline that enabled Hoover to make the FBI a respected, world-famous organization, noted for its integrity. His rigid methods were the only basis on which Hoover would accept the job of housecleaning the then Bureau of Investigation, a scandal-ridden haven for political hacks, in the early 1920's.

Born Jan. 4, 1895 in the nation's capital, Hoover received a law degree from George Washington University but never practiced law. He joined the Justice Department on July 26, 1917, at age 22 and soon was in the Enemy Alien Registration Section with one of his first major tasks a study of subversive activities.

His conclusion that the Communists were engaged in a conspiracy to overthrow by force and violence all non-Communist governments in the world, including the United States, was to dominate his thinking from then on.

On May 10, 1924, Hoover was called into the office of Attorney General Harlan Fiske Stone and offered the challenge of shaking up the Bureau of Investigation. He was 29.

During the turbulent thirties after the agency became the FBI, Hoover and his agents gained nationwide praise as the "G-men," who helped rid the nation of such notorious gangsters as John Dillinger, Ma Barker, "Creepy" Alvin Karpis, and George "Maehine Gun" Kelly.

Kelly was credited with labeling the hated government men, "G-MEN."

Hoover became a legend but little ever was known of his private life. Insiders reported he had little interest in reading, preferring to watch football on television. He had a passion for racing and boxing. He had a penchant for writing personal notes to agents congratulating those who had performed well and rebuking those who did not.

He remembered birthdays, anniversaries, weddings. Hoover's bullet-proof cars became a source of controversy. One picked him up at his Rock Creek Parkway home each morning for the drive to the Justice Department, took him regularly to lunch at the Mayflower Hotel, and home at night. But there were reports he had others at his disposal for visits to Florida and California, two favorite vacation spots.

The only other official in the government who rated one—let alone several—expensive, bullet-proof limousines was the president.

Hoover served under a total of eight presidents—from Calvin Coolidge through Richard M. Nixon. During these years, his rapport with the congressmen who controlled the government's pursestrings was the envy of all. An FBI appropriation was never denied.

Detractors called him, "The Librarian." They claimed the FBI director's power stemmed solely from the fact that he held hundreds of thousands of personal dossiers on criminals—and lots of noncriminals, plus at least one set of fingerprints for half the population of America.

Even rarer glimpse of unsuspected humor

During the forties, Hoover's bureau investigated espionage, sabotage and subversion. His conclusions 20 years before about the Soviet Communists were reinforced. An FBI investigation in the Cold War years led to the arrest of Klaus Fuchs and broke the conspiracy which had given Russia the secrets of the atom bomb.

As civil rights legislation passed Congress, the FBI also entered this field, although reportedly with less enthusiasm.

Hoover's biggest brush in this area was with Dr. Martin Luther King whose assassination led the FBI into the most sensational investigation of the sixties—the hunt for King's killer across the Atlantic Ocean to Europe.

Four years before King's murder April 4, 1968, Hoover had called him a liar. Two years after his death, Hoover said King was "the last person in the world" who should have received the Nobel Peace Prize. But Hoover's most celebrated fights—and those most public—were with Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy. They maintained fairly cordial relations initially, despite Kennedy's insistence that Hoover hire more Negroes. Then came the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas.

According to the dozens of accounts of the lives of the two Kennedy brothers, Hoover coolly informed the attorney general of the assassination and then moved with amazing speed to get his own man next to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson even before he was sworn in as president.

Edwin Guthman, a Kennedy aide, gave this account of the deterioration in their relationship in his book, "We Band of Brothers."

"A major element was Hoover's full understanding of President Johnson's feelings toward Bob and vice versa," Guthman wrote. "Hoover had survived in Washington through six changes of administration, and his instincts for entrenching himself with the new men of power were unerring."

Hoover and Kennedy clashed again after the attorney general became a U.S. Senator from New York. This time the issue was wiretapping—then illegal—against organized crime figures. Hoover put the full responsibility on Kennedy who said he had not only not authorized it but was unaware of such eavesdropping.

Subversion was among Hoover's greatest concerns. His agents infiltrated such rightist groups as the Ku Klux Klan and such leftist groups as the Black Panthers.

They spied and tape recorded activist speakers on college campuses and surveilled an "Earth Day" rally held by environmentalists. Hoover again came under fire in some quarters when he told a congressional hearing of a plot "masterminded" by imprisoned peace priests Philip and Daniel Berrigan to kidnap White House aide Henry Kissinger.

Hoover revealed details of the alleged plot in November, 1970. The Rev. Philip Berrigan was not indicted by a federal grand jury until January, 1971, and then the jury stayed in secret session months longer before returning a superseding indictment.

Each time Hoover was attacked for such activities, Nixon or Mitchell came to his defense with stirring endorsements.

One high-level source said Nixon would have liked to ask Hoover to step down in 1971 but feared "the old man would go kicking and screaming" and that all his many supporters would then turn on Nixon. There also was the problem that confronted most of the presidents under whom Hoover served—who could replace him?

Hoover, himself, thought a replacement should come only from within the ranks of his organization. But two top candidates—Cartha DeLoach and William Sullivan left. DeLoach apparently convinced Hoover would stay on the job until he died, and Sullivan under pressure. Meanwhile, Hoover moved up the man who had run his internal security division—charged with watching over the FBI itself—in apparent hope he would be his heir apparent. The man, until then a complete unknown outside the FBI, was W. Mark Felt.

Hoover's long-time deputy and personal sidekick, Clyde A. Tolson, was past 70 and ailing for years.

There was little doubt Hoover wanted to stay on and see the personification of his life's work finished in the form of a magnificent new office building on Pennsylvania Avenue opposite the Justice Department. It would be the FBI's first private home and cost more than any other office building in the world to that time—well in HONG KONG (UPI)—About half of the foreign visitors to Hong Kong in 1971 were Japanese and Americans, says the Hong Kong Tourist Association. There were 217,695 visitors from the United States last year and 27,960 from Japan.

An association spokesman said a major change in the pattern of visitor arrivals was the rapid increase in younger tourists under the age of 35.

excess of $100 million. He planned it, he undoubtedly wanted to reside in it. A bachelor, Hoover never married. Some thought he feared marriage might have interfered with his dedication to the FBI.

Rules on killing changed

GENEVA (UPI)—The International Committee of the Red Cross has drafted new rules to remove savagery and indiscriminate killing from modern warfare.

Texts of the proposed additions to the four basic Geneva war conventions of 1949 go before government and private legal experts from 65 countries on Wednesday for four weeks of closed-door discussion.

The Red Cross, realizing that the 1949 conventions are no longer adequate to control the new kind of undeclared civil conflicts around the world, brought governments together informally last year for initial talks.

It drafted the proposed additions to the conventions over the past 10 months for presentation to the new conference.

It is planned to bring diplomats together in October, 1973, for a final meeting so that the new rules can take effect in 1974.

Both the United States and Soviet Union are attending the discussions, together with North and South Korea and South Vietnam.

China said it is unable to take part at the present time because of "technical difficulties," which the Red Cross takes to mean a lack of legal experts.

North Vietnam failed to react to an invitation.

Rebekah leader visits

GLENN FERRY — Mrs. Eleanor Huff, Grangeville, Rebekah Assembly president, made her official visit to Allen Lodge No. 62 Monday evening.

Mrs. Huff instructed members to "tell and sell odd Fellowship," to stress membership, support the eye bank program, the United Nations program, the President's home furnishing fund and to be active in community service.

Mrs. Huff conducted the meeting with her personal Bible and gavel, gifts presented her during her term as assembly president. She was presented with a picture painted by Mrs. Raymond Golden, King Hill, on behalf of the lodge.

Mrs. Huff selected the owl as the symbol of wise counsel, wisdom and understanding.

Mrs. Zoe Huff of Aileen No. 62 was honored as a 60-year Rebekah member.

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Robert Robertson, past noble grand.

A no-host dinner preceded the meeting. Mrs. C. Coon made the table decorations which included red roses, the favorite flower of the assembly president.

A number of distinguished officers attended from Mountain Home, Fairfield and Caldwell.

Fidelis class has banquet

TWIN FALLS — Using as a theme "God so Loved the World" the Fidelis class of the First Baptist Church held its annual spring banquet.

Class president Mrs. Elno Lightfoot gave the welcome Monday night and introduced special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, Merritt Shotwell and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mortensen, parents of Mrs. Robert Burman. Mrs. Shotwell served as mistress of ceremonies.

The Dixieland band from O'Leary Junior high school performed "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands," and several musical selections.

Carrying out the theme was a large world atlas, open Bible and spring flower centerpiece. Pastel May baskets were used as nap cups.

Officers for the class introduced by Mrs. Lightfoot were Clyde Van Ausdine, vice president, Mrs. Browning, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Marion Carlson, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Howard Durward was in charge of the dedication of officers for the class.

Robert and Laura Brackett presented a concert. Mrs. Holloway gave the devotional on "Food for Soul and Body" using illustrations from her own cookbook.

A gift in appreciation for her faithful service as teacher of the class was presented to Mrs. Burnan.

Murtaugh project slated

TWIN FALLS — Access to Murtaugh Lake will be leveled, and graveled by the U.S. Army Reserve, according to the Murtaugh Lake Water Skiing Association.

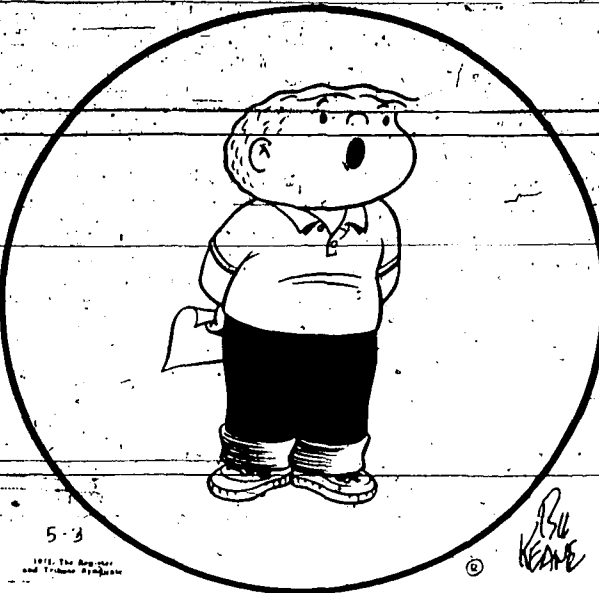

At its meeting Monday at the Idaho Power Auditorium, the association decided to control parking at the lake for safety and convenience of the public. Regulations will be enforced by order of the Twin Falls County sheriff's department.

Because of vandalism at the lake over the past winter, the lake will be patrolled by the sheriff's patrol every afternoon people are present, club members were told.

A sign reading, "This area maintained through the efforts of the Murtaugh Lake Skiing Association. Please do not abuse," will be placed at the entrance to the lake.

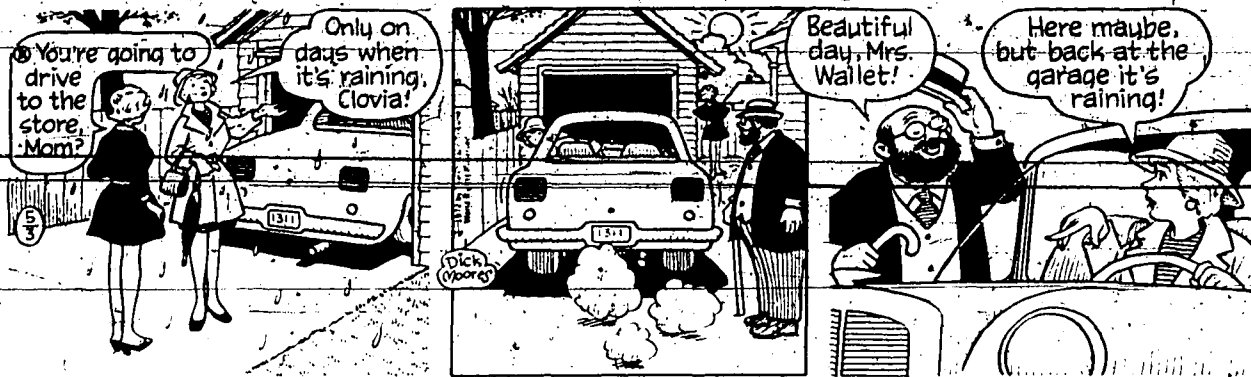

Linda McClain received the door prize, a slalom ski donated by Century Automotive. She donated the ski back to the club for a slalom racing trail.

The rally was led by John Larson.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1972

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's activities can be utilized wisely by putting yourself in an enthusiastic frame of mind. Let this continue in outside affairs, especially when meeting individuals in positions of authority, the government, civic, or whatever vocational activities you encounter.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact those persons who can be most helpful in backing your pet project and get desired results quickly. Engage in civic work that brings you the prestige you want.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have a plan to work out which can be best accomplished with the aid of persons with practical ideas. Make good use of them. Avoid the limelight tonight. Rest is more important.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You must put big plans aside temporarily while you clear up accumulated obligations that are vital. Following this have fun with the one you love tonight. Show that you have poise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listening to the views of an associate clears up the misunderstanding between you. Something comes up to pave the way for greater success for you. Take advantage of it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) With all that work ahead of you, enthusiasm is necessary to put it resolutely behind you and clear the slate for big things ahead. Rest and restore your energies in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Accept an invitation to pleasure extended to you, since you can put off unimportant chores to another time. Others see you in a favorable light now, so make the most of it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Give your attention to home affairs now that are most important. You have to prepare better before you become involved in a public matter that interests you. Show that you have ability.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Have the right answers for others and get ahead faster. Show associates that you appreciate them. Make everything around you more perfect. Avoid unnecessary clutter. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Obtain facts and figures that will help you come to a better understanding with associates. Go to a business expert for the data you need. Use tact with these persons.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't waste time in going after a personal advancement that you want and get the right results. Those who are devoted to you can be most helpful. Put more joy into your life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You need to study all the factors of a new plan if you are to be successful with it. Do some secret angling. Find a new way to assist those who come to you for help.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get in touch with individuals who are eager to see you get fine benefits therefrom. Something of a social nature is fine in the evening. Show that you are capable.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those very wise young people who comprehends what bigwigs expect. Give the finest education that will help your progeny make the most of modern systems and trends, since there is likely to be much of the old-fashioned in this nature. Prepare now for his or her education so there will be no lack later on.

FB said target of union smear

CHICAGO (UPI) — American Farm Bureau Federation workers to organize freely, and President William J. Kuhfuss said a nationwide campaign to attack and discredit the AFBF and its members has been threatened by the United Farm Workers National union headed by Cesar Chavez.

Kuhfuss said Tuesday a UFW delegation on April 26 told bureau officers at AFBF national headquarters in suburban Park Ridge, Ill., that unless they withdrew their efforts to get farm labor legislation enacted, the union's national boycott apparatus will be put into an "informational" campaign against the Farm Bureau in 40 cities.

The AFBF, Kuhfuss said in a statement, is lobbying in Congress and in several states for legislation to guarantee secret ballot elections for farm workers, and to ban the secondary boycott in agriculture just as it now is banned in industry under the National Labor Relations Act.

Kuhfuss said he responded with reassurance to agriculture and the nation that the Farm Bureau would intensify its efforts to get fair and constructive farm labor legislation that would protect

Cool April reduces river runoff

TWIN FALLS — Cool temperatures in April slowed the anticipated heavy spring run off this year, cutting flood threats and maintaining the level of Snake River about the same as last year.

Al Peters, Twin Falls Canal Co. Manager, said about 10,000 to 12,000 second feet of water is now flowing down Snake River but there is more to come as much of the snow pack still remains in higher elevations.

Peak flow over Shoshone Falls this spring was 19,000 second feet April 17. A year ago and at about the same time the measure was 19,300 second feet of water. April temperatures last year were much higher, creating a faster run off.

Peters said reservoirs are still letting water spill into the river to make room for additional run off, but the flow is reduced by the time it reaches this area because of water being taken out for irrigation.

The flow is continuing in sufficient force to make Shoshone Falls and the remaining falls at Twin Falls spectacular attractions.

Peters said the flow may increase between now and June when gates on the reservoirs will close. The amount of flow will depend on the water being used and the speed with which the remaining snow pack melts, he said.

Last year a record of 4.5 million acre feet of water spilled from reservoirs and went down the Snake River unused. Peters said, usually about one million acre feet passes through unused. Judging from the snow pack remaining this record could be broken this year, he said. Last year's carry over in reservoirs was also a record, Peters said.

The Twin Falls Canal Co. is running about three-quarters of a head of water in the system at this time and farmers are using it on a regular schedule, but not as heavily as they will as soon as temperatures warm, Peters said.

Peters said there is a great need for another dam and reservoir similar to Palisades upstream which would allow Idaho to take advantage of the million or more acre feet of water which is now wasted in good water years. This could give the state an opportunity to put the water to use for good benefit, he said.

Butz agrees his post oriented to politics

By BERNARD BRENNER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Earl L. Butz won't deny it if anyone accuses him of being a politically oriented secretary of agriculture. He'll go further. He'll say it himself.

"I don't make any bones about the fact that the secretary of agriculture is a quasi-political position," Butz told newsmen recently after a reporter asked if GOP prospects had improved since he took office.

"I'm a member of the Nixon team, and if I didn't believe in him I wouldn't be here. I think agriculture needs him another four years, I think the country needs him," Butz said.

"Now there's not unanimous agreement on that ... we're going to have a little contest on that this summer, and I'm obviously here to help him. I want to see this administration get back in," he added.

The secretary of agriculture, Butz said, has "tremendous power."

"I spend a lot of money. We've got an $11 billion budget. And I'd be naive if I didn't admit there are ways to be political as secretary of agriculture, as secretaries before me have been political. I think Democratic secretaries have been more political than Republican secretaries," Butz said.

Reflecting back to the Eisenhower administration years when he was an assistant secretary under Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, Butz recalled that "very few people accused Ezra Benson of being political and he was a whipping boy in the Eisenhower administration."

Benson, a member of the ruling council of the Mormon Church, was an "inflexible" man of high ideals while serving in the cabinet, Butz reflected.

"Ezra was a man, as I've often said, very close to his God. He walked beside God, whereas most of us just report to Him occasionally. And this gave Ezra tremendous strength when he was right, and made it impossible to change him when he was wrong," Butz said.

"And politically, what a target he was, because he was always there, he never varied. All you had to do was reload your guns. You didn't change your aim, your aim was constant," he added.

Butz made it clear his comments on Benson were based on friendship and high regard.

"I know this is going to get quoted in the Salt Lake City paper," he commented midway through his remarks about Benson. "But Ezra is a great friend of mine."

Butz said he was not quite as rigid in his approach as Benson.

"I'm not quite that way. I've got more flexibility built into me," he said.

Produce Prices

CHICAGO (UPI) — Produce prices today showed a general decline, with potatoes and onions leading the way down.

Weather slows crops

BOISE (UPI) — A federal report released today said weather conditions this past week put stress on growing crops.

The report from the U.S. Department of Commerce and the U.S. Department of Agriculture said range and pasture grasses, which made good progress in March, have practically stopped growing for much of April with lower ranges becoming dry in the southwest.

It must be hard to make a whiskey taste soft. Nobody else does.

Plenty of distillers have tried to match that one-of-a-kind soft taste of Calvert Extra. They have their work cut out. They'll have to try endless distilling variations, as we did. This can take years. And dollars. By the million. But forget about how hard 86 proof Calvert Extra is to make. Just think of how soft it is to taste. And enjoy.
